

FETISH FAIR FLEAMARKET

46

NEW ENGLAND LEATHER ALLIANCE

Greetings Fellow Kinkfolk,

Welcome to New England's 46th incarnation of the Fetish Fair Fleamarket®. We'd like to welcome you to our home(s), the Crowne Plaza Warwick and Holiday Inn Express Warwick, for our traditional Presidents' Day Weekend Winter Fleamarket. We hope you have a fun-filled, safe and enriching experience. Please respect the hotel as if it were your home; playing and shopping responsibly goes a long way toward achieving that. Our event has never allowed nudity, and we ask that in public spaces, especially areas outside our checkpoints, you exercise good taste. All of us differ in our abilities and skills, so please be mindful of those who might not be as agile or facile. What we do is based on the cornerstone of consent. Please be sure consent is in everything that you do. If you feel unsafe or uncomfortable at any time, please seek out a NELA Board member or a member of our Safety Staff, or if neither is available, a member of the hotel staff. If you are feeling unwell, we have arranged for the medical services of Operation Hammond to assist you.

NELA is a 501(c)3 non-profit organization dedicated to making a safe place in the world for all leather / fetish / BDSM people through education, advocacy, and charitable giving. NELA uses the FFFs to not only provide in-event education and community group involvement, but also as the financial engines to support our work through the whole of the year. Please come by our table all weekend and get or update your NELA Associates Benefit Card (ABC), which entitles you to free or reduced-rate admission to NELA events throughout New England, discounts on merchandise from a number of vendors, and discounts to get into many other non-NELA events. Revenue from the NELA merchandise we offer in return for donations also supports our work, so if you purchase a NELA t-shirt, hoodie, or lunch box, you're helping to support our advocacy and charitable giving. Our charitable giving, and our support of a number of special programs, help build our community. We support other worthwhile organizations both at home and across the country like The Network/La Red, AIDS Care Ocean State (see them in Room 101 Saturday and Sunday again this year for free HIV and Hep C testing!), and the NCSF. We also have special programs like the 'Ayem Willing' Volunteer Travel Fund, which assists volunteers to travel to events and return with education which they might not otherwise be able to reach.

As with most community organizations, the lifeblood of our organization is our volunteers. Now in its 25th year, NELA has for a quarter-century been able to exist as part of, and help, the New England community of leatherfolk, solely because of those volunteers. Everyone from the wristband checkers to the Board of NELA have devoted their time, energy and abilities to make the FFF one of the largest and best BDSM events in the nation. We wish to offer a sincere thank-you to everyone who has volunteered, helped or lent an ear when needed, in the past or present. Without you, we wouldn't be here today.

And so through the efforts of our volunteers NELA continues its advocacy to help our world become a safer and happier place for those of us in our varied communities to be able to express our sexuality, and our focus remains unchanged: an unwavering commitment to our mission of education, advocacy, and charitable giving. Your attendance here this weekend at the FFF helps support that mission, and we thank you for joining us.

Photography

Attendees, Vendors, Presenters and NELA Volunteers and staff are prohibited from taking pictures or video in any public area of the venue. Public areas are "Any area in the hotel that is not a privately-rented hotel room."

The FFF respects your privacy; however, please recall that you are at a public event, and you are your own best protection. the Fetish Fair Fleamarket, NELA, our host hotels, and our partner sponsoring groups and producers will not be liable in the event that your picture is taken.

Camera phones and video phones are everywhere, but we're asking you not to use them or any other cameras in any public space. Reports of your unauthorized photography or recording of any kind will result in your being removed from the event without refund. Please keep this in mind and avoid even the appearance of photographing/videoing others.

Please note that there will be some NELA-authorized photographers present at this event. You should be aware of them; if you do not want to appear in any picture. All authorized photographers will have a badge that they will display at all times, and they are required to obtain your explicit permission before taking any photograph (even if your face is obscured). These are the only photographers allowed.

If a photographer asks you to pose for a photo and you agree, please be sure to sign a photo release form.

It is proper procedure for authorized photographers to ask first before taking a photo. Harassing attendees for photos is forbidden. If someone pressures you for a photo, or takes an unauthorized photo "on the sly" please report it to NELA staff or volunteers immediately. If you think you have been photographed without your consent, you have the right to demand the film from the photographer or to check their digital files and delete the ones you are in.

Attendees entering into agreements to be photographed privately are strongly encouraged to check the references of the person they are dealing with, to have someone they know and trust with them during any private photo shoot, and to resolve all issues of compensation and the rights to the images before beginning a private photo shoot.

Consent Concerns

Consent is crucial to a healthy community, and NELA takes consent issues very seriously. Should you have a concern around consent during FFF #46, please do not hesitate to approach a member of Operation Hammond (in their Con HQ space, or via their 24/7 phone number - 617-297-8452) about it; they will contact a NELA Board Member Liaison to meet with you and address your concerns.

Transgender Etiquette

There are many people who are transgender (Transsexual, Gender Queer, Crossdresser, Gender Variant, and more) in our community. People who are transgender and/or whose gender identity or expression does not conform to stereotypes of male or female often face discrimination and harassment, particularly when accessing public events and spaces, especially restrooms. To be inclusive and improve the quality of life for members of our community who are transgender and attending the FFF, please read and act upon the following:

Restrooms

One way of acknowledging the needs of all people regardless of their gender identity/expression is to designate restrooms that are gender-neutral, and to support people in using the gender-designated restroom that they identify with. Many people face harassment in public bathrooms based on their perceived sex or gender identity; this can lead to anything from emotional discomfort, to arrest, or even murder. Regardless of which restroom you choose to use, please let everyone use the restroom of their choice in peace. Gender-neutral restrooms are located throughout the hotel.

Pronouns

A person's external appearance may not match their internal gender identity. You cannot determine the gender or sex of someone by their physical body, voice, appearance or mannerisms. It's best to ask people "What pronoun do you prefer?" before using pronouns or gendered words. In group situations where you don't have an opportunity to ask someone what words they prefer, try using gender-neutral phrases like "the person in the red shirt," instead of "that woman or man."

Privacy and Respect For All Participants

Please respect the privacy and boundaries of people who are transgender, and do not ask unnecessary questions -- your personal curiosity, while well-meaning, may be distressing to a person who identifies as transgender. If someone discloses they are transgender, do not "out" (expose the identity) of the person who is transgender to other people. The person who is transgender may feel comfortable coming out to you, but may not wish to be out to other people. Please treat everyone as you wish to be treated.

Dress Code

The Fetish Fair Fleamarket® does not allow nudity in any public areas of the host or overflow hotel. "Sidewalk Friendly" attire is required, which is not the same as "Street Legal." "Legal" means a thong and pasties -- but we have always required a bit more to ensure the comfort of all attendees. This means that butts and breasts must be fully covered; no breasts covered only in Liquid Latex or by something sheer or see-through with nothing else under[neath] it. We understand that this is a kink event, but please remember that our goal is to make everyone comfortable -- not only our guests, but the hotel staff and airline guests as well. Please keep that in mind when you choose your outfits, and help us make sure that we get re-invited each year to this wonderful venue. Your cooperation and support is crucial to our success, and we love you all for it -- and we also think you all look hot, even if we can't see your naughtier bits in the hallways :)

FFF Private Event and Party Policy

The only official play party hosted by NELA at the Fetish Fair Fleamarket® takes place in the Crowne Plaza Hotel's Plaza Ballroom and Foyer area Saturday from 9:00PM - 2:00AM. All other gatherings involving play or sexual activity are considered private events.

Private events must remain inside the guest bedrooms at all times with doors leading to the hall kept closed, and shall not impede or block any hallway, fire escape, or flow of foot traffic.

Our commitment to the hotel is, in essence, to make sure that no one has a reason to feel uncomfortable with our presence. We strive to build a solid, trusting mutually beneficial relationship with the hotel for years to come. Please respect our venue!

Locations of private events within the host or overflow hotel may not be advertised in any way, shape, or form; please invite people to your event by direct invitation only.

Please be mindful of noise or any behavior that may be disturbing to other guests or hotel staff.

Violation of this policy may be reason for terminating the party or ejection from event areas without refund.

Jack
Chair, Co-Con-Chair

Jack has been involved in the local leather community for over 15 years. He was sucked into lugging boxes for NELA at the Summer Flea several years ago, and has become steadily more involved, helping with the Fleas, Pride, and NELA. He currently serves as Chair of the NELA Board, and is Co-chair of FFF 46. This might be better than his original title, He Who Lifts Things Up And Puts Them Down.

Kerry
Associates

Kerry has been involved in the local leather community for about 15 years. Like Jack, she was sucked into lugging boxes at the Summer Flea many years ago. In 2009 she joined the NELA board as Co-Director of Associates, a position she still holds. At FFF 46, Kerry coordinates Volunteers, which is like herding cats with thumbs.

Lord Percival
Programming

Lord Percival (Percy) has been active in the scene for more than four decades. Mostly known for his rope mastery, education is a particular passion of Percy's. He is currently on the Board of NELA (New England Leather Alliance), as Director of Programming and Education.

A scene from Cecilia Tan's new book TAKING THE LEAD: a BDSM romance. Our heroine, Ricki Hamilton, has just inherited a Hollywood mansion along with a secret: her family has been secretly running a bondage dungeon for A-list celebrities in their basement since the 1950s. To keep her inheritance, the terms of the will require Ricki to keep the dungeon going. Ricki thinks she'll handle it by keeping her ice-queen cool, but her undeniable attraction to bad boy rock star Axel Hawke may put a dent in that plan.

This excerpt comes from a scene at Ricki's first time hosting a dungeon party.

I put myself onto a barstool in the main social room and tried to catch my breath. Well, I had been right when I told Sakura that being in the same room with Axel would be a disaster for having a rational conversation. I'd barely been able to put a whole sentence together, as if that electric tingling I felt on my skin when I was near him was actually causing my brain to short circuit.

I tried to reason with myself. Of course he makes you weak in the knees—he makes millions of women and girls feel like that every day. That's his job. Okay, but then why was I sort of angry with him, too? Was it just that I was afraid and being angry was my only defense? That's it, I thought. You're afraid of how he took all your resistance and fear away. You're afraid you won't be able to protect yourself.

I stayed there in the main social room, the large central one with the Catherine Wheel and the bar. Gwen contentedly glided through the halls but I really didn't feel comfortable seeing Kresley Palmer spank his wife, even if they were okay with being seen. Gwen had explained that people would shut the door to their playroom if they didn't want spectators, and they'd leave it open if they did. I still didn't feel brave enough to catch a glimpse. I was a little surprised that everyone seemed so...normal. The guests were cheerful and chatty, just like at any other party. I had been expecting more sultry eyelash batting and swooning. No, I was the only one who'd felt like swooning, I guess.

Staying in the main room, though, meant that eventually a scene came to me. The other dungeon hostess on our staff was a dark-skinned, dark-eyed woman named Chita. She was short, fierce, and plump, and I noticed her talking with Grant in front of the wheel.

"Your first time?" she said, loud enough to be heard throughout the room, where a few couples were socializing. "Well, then. The best way to learn it is to get up there yourself for a bit. How about this. I'll flog you first, and then once you've got the idea, we'll switch. Deal?"

"Um, deal," he said, slipping his blazer from his shoulders. I walked back to the main door while he got undressed, as if I might need to check on something, but Reeve looked bored at his post. When I returned to the main room Grant was down to black boxer briefs and black socks. Why he kept his socks on, I don't know, but he was climbing onto the footrests on the wheel and Chita was strapping him in. She had a flogger with a handle about a foot long with a full head of heavy leather tresses hanging over one shoulder. Grant looked back at her, tugging at one wrist cuff a little.

"The big one? You're going to use the big one?"

Chita patted him on the backside. "No worries, pup. The big one's the easy one! It's the little ones that sting like a motherfucker. Here you go, nice and easy."

She stepped back and swung it slowly toward him and the leather tails slapped his back, barely making a sound. They both chuckled, Grant in nervous relief.

"That hardly feels like anything," he said.

"I know, right? See, nothing to worry about." She swung a little faster the next time, draping the tails down his back.

He wriggled a little. "Think of it like an exotic back massage."

In fact, Grant sounded a lot like some people do when they're getting worked over at a spa, everything from sighs and groans to the occasional excited yelp. Chita gradually increased how fast and how hard she was hitting his back, until the rhythm became hypnotic. She looked so focused, so competent. I stopped feeling nervous about watching and instead found myself wondering what it felt like.

The thing is, I was sure that it would feel completely different to get that "exotic back massage" from one of the hostesses as a lark than it would to stand up there, half-naked, in front of Axel.

At last Chita stepped back and wiped her brow. "I'm working up a sweat over here. You ready to switch places, Grant?"

"Sure."

Before she let him go, though, she ran her fingernails up and down the pink skin of his back and shoulders and he shivered and made a ridiculous, delighted sound. I held in a tense laugh, not wanting Grant to think I was laughing at him. Even if I was. Especially because I was.

They had to adjust the placement of the footrests and the wrist restraints because Chita was so much shorter than he was, and she gave him a few pointers on how to swing the flogger before she shucked the leather bustier she'd been buckled into. "You should probably start on my back," she purred, "but if you do it nice, I'll let you flog these next." She cupped her voluminous breasts in her hands.

I felt a shiver run through me at the thought. I'd have said it was a shiver of revulsion except the feeling that coiled in my gut was nothing like disgust: it was hunger. I wanted to be touched. I needed to be touched. I lived every day in a world where I had to fend off the inappropriate advances of men on one side and make myself seem like "one of the guys" in the board room so they'd listen to me, where I had to guard my reputation as tirelessly as my ideas. And I was tired of it.

That's why Grandpa Cy started the club, I realized. Because everyone deserved a place where they could let that guard down and let their true selves—their erotic selves—be free.

But while the club could be that for everyone else, it couldn't be that for me. Grant was a quick study, easily getting the hang of swinging the flogger, and egged on by her gusto. "Come on baby, that's it!" Chita exclaimed as he did as she had done, making the strokes harder and faster as he went. "Woo! Harder!" He switched from one hand to the other as I guess his arm got tired, and then when she was still shouting, "Yeah! Yeah! More!" he went to swinging the flail with both hands, like a lumberjack with an axe. Wow. The harder he hit her, the louder and happier Chita's whoops got. The noise had attracted a crowd and she got them involved next. "That's it, babe, that's it! Okay now, ten more, y'all count down with me! Ten! Nine!"

It turned into something like a scene from a New Year's Eve party, with everyone counting down to zero in unison. Grant whacked her as hard as he could on each count and when they got to zero he practically collapsed against her back and she tipped her head back for a kiss.

I bit my lip. Desire was raging through me now like I'd never felt before. Why did that make me so hot? I guess knowing that flogging was a thing people did had never affected me that much, but seeing it done right in front of me was a lot more affecting.

It doesn't mean anything, I told myself. I might have believed it, too, if my next thought hadn't been, I wonder where Axel is now?

This excerpt is from THE VISCONTRESS INVESTIGATES by Cameron Quintain, published by Circlot Press. The Viscountess and her slave Severin are detectives in a fantasy world where BDSM is magic and pocket dimensions exist that encapsulate perfect S&M fantasy worlds. The Viscountess and Severin must travel through many of these pocket universes in their search for a murderer. In this scene they go to the house of the murder victim whose death they are investigating.

The old stone house was huge and surrounded by a lush, green yard dotted with trees. As they pulled into the driveway, Severin gave a little gasp and the chain linking his wrists to the cart rattled as he tried to catch up. He had been doing fairly well in the void between worlds, but now that they were back on solid ground, he was having a hard time keeping up with the cart. Snuzzle had been a track star in college, and even though her competitive days were behind her, those long legs could still eat up ground with a ferocious speed.

Viscountess pulled on the reins, stopping them next to a shiny black BMW. There was a woman standing next to it who was, like her car, shiny, powerful, and full of generous curves. Before anything else, the Viscountess gave water and a salt tablet to Snuzzle. While the pony girl got her breath back, Viscountess wiped the sweat from her eyes and stroked her, whispering soft murmurs of pride and contentment. Then Snuzzle was given a sugar cube that made her whinny with joy.

Once Severin was unchained, the woman introduced herself. "I am the Executrix." She was tall, proud, and voluptuous, her generous form encased in a latex power suit. She had latex pants, a latex jacket, a white latex shirt, and black latex tie. The gloves on her hands were so tight she wore rings over them.

"I am the Viscountess, and this is my slave."

They shook hands while Severin pressed kisses into the Executrix's boot. His tongue tingled with the contact. The Executrix was a powerful dominant woman, and unless he was mistaken there was a lesbian aftertaste to the boot.

As the two women shook hands, their fingers lingered together for an instant. The Viscountess felt a spark of Sapphic desire pass between them. "You do excellent work for the community," the Viscountess said approvingly.

"Thank you. You're developing quite a reputation yourself."

"Perhaps we can discuss it over dinner."

"I'd like that," the Executrix smiled. The smile served to soften the harsh lines on her face, showing an inner beauty that was quite touching. The Viscountess felt certain that the desire she felt from the Executrix was amorous rather than dominant.

The Executrix kicked Severin away, and the two newcomers got their first real look at the house. It was a huge, stone building, solid and practical without a lot of flourishes, but the touches Powers had added were quite striking. The building had living gargoyles. Near each corner of the building there was a naked woman, squatting down, her legs drawn up to her chest, held in place by thick leather straps that dangled her over the ground. Their noses were pulled back by nose hooks, and one of them had her mouth stretched into a cruel smile by hooks in the corners of her mouth, while the other had her mouth held widely open, the teeth made visible by four hooks that peeled her lips back until the gums were exposed.

The gargoyles were not the most unusual things on the grounds. The driveway made a circle around a large fountain. There were two women in the fountain, naked from the waist up, and below the waist their legs were encased in tight rubber mermaid's tails. They were chained back to back to a center post, their manacled wrists locked together so the backs of their hands touched. A stream of water cascaded from the post with just enough pressure that it rained down on them, soaking them every second. From the goosebumps and the hardness of their nipples, the water must have been quite chilly. The women seemed to be in a sort of dreamy reverie, as if unaware that they were being watched.

"Please tell me they haven't been like this since Powers died," the Viscountess murmured.

"Of course not," the Executrix explained. "The slaves have been scurrying around all morning trying to get the place ready for you."

"They needn't have bothered."

"It's important to them," the Executrix gazed admiringly at the fountain. "He used this for several pieces, but this was his favorite. He called it Mermaid's Lament."

Do you want more fulfilling play? Need more effective ways to uncover the other's real desires and minimize scene failure? Dissatisfied with scenes or frustrated at not having your desire accepted? Join Midori in this popular and unique class where she explodes the standard definitions of kink and expands the idea of what it is all about. She maps out a fine-tuned and flexible framework that anyone can use to better describe their appetites. The first step to fulfilling your desire is to better understand them, then effectively and appealingly conveying them. A class for those who want hotter play, and those don't quite fit into the standard boxes... and for anyone who is curious about their own pleasure potential!

Beyond the Spotlight: Now with Less Drama

Samantha

Communication - Greenwich - Sat 1:00 PM

Most of us know, at least intellectually, the importance of communicating limits and establishing ongoing consent. Even for seasoned players, limits can be hard to define, or keep to because one may not want to "wimp out" or let their partner down. A rope bottom may worry that by pointing out the pinching in their armpit, they'll stop an otherwise hot scene. Edge players, experimenting with pushing limits, may have a hard time knowing when things are really "okay," and when they are causing themselves or their partner harm. Negotiations and safewords, in short, are frequently not enough. This class looks at ways to address those times when limits come in shades of gray.

Biomechanics for

Bondage

Abbystract

Rope - Barrington - Sat 6:15 PM

Cut Downs and Cut Outs

AdelineKindred

General Skills - Kingston - Sat 10:45 AM

We spend hours practicing our ties, thinking up new and creative ways to bind and contort the body with rope, or straps, or other types of bondage. How much time has been spent thinking about getting the person out or down in an emergency? How much time have you spent practicing for problems that may come up? Your rope skills may be tight, but that doesn't stop the building from catching fire, the ceiling from collapsing or someone else from making a mistake. This class will be an opportunity to discuss those problems that may come up, the tools you would use in case of emergency and when to make the decision to cut. As the class draws to a close you will have the opportunity to practice cutting rope under tension. These minutes of practice could make the difference when seconds count.

Erotic Spanking

AdelineKindred

Impact - Kingston - Fri 10:00 PM

For thousands of years, and perhaps longer, spanking has been a part of human history. It transcends kink, finding itself in movies and vanilla bedrooms. Spanking has even been written about in Cosmo, although that's no shocker. It has been proven to increase blood flow to the buttocks and by proxy the genitals, heightening arousal. It is arguably the best way to have an intimate connection of flesh upon flesh in the S&M world. This class will open up the world of spanking to you, teach you to conquer the moon and the mind. It will focus on the bare handed beating of the buttocks, without forgetting the brain and the body as tools for a bewildering time. Count with me and enjoy.

Exploring Kink - Giving and Accepting Service
Max

Power and Authority Exchange - Bristol - Sat 8:00 PM

Many kinksters love the idea of service, but struggle to make it work. That's not surprising- giving and accepting service requires a different toolset than sensation-based S/M or power-based D/S. Service can be deep, quiet and profound- or it can be challenging for both the top and the bottom. This workshop will help tops receive service gracefully and will help bottoms who wish to offer service. Max will present several models for service and service relationships, and will provide techniques you can use to define and nurture your own service dynamic. As with all of Max's workshops, a handout will be provided to facilitate your learning and retention. This workshop assumes no previous BDSM experience and is appropriate for all genders, all orientations, and for both tops and bottoms.

Finding Pleasure After Trauma

Dr. Ruthie

General Skills - Wickford - Sat 9:45 pm

We each deserve pleasure, regardless of our pasts. But how can we find our sensual and sexual selves after trauma? Dr. Ruthie brings their extensive experience in helping others discover how to nurture the return of pleasure after pain. Attendees will gain new insight and tools for rediscovering joy and intimacy. This workshop is grounded in trauma recovery theory focused on mindfulness, grounding, restoring, and reclaiming of the self. Participants will not be asked to disclose the source of their traumas during the workshop, and instead will be invited to quietly reflect, draw, or write as needed so as to keep the space as safe and comfortable as possible for everyone. Best for participants who are no longer in a high-risk situation (ie: no longer dating their abuser).

From the Sensual To the Sadistic: Calibration Equals

Good Scenes For Every Body

Sara Scalper

Impact - Kingston - Sat 1:00 PM

What is calibration, you may ask? Well, the dictionary definition is "the act of checking or adjusting the accuracy of an instrument." Applying this concept in a BDSM context in a scene, a top's body, and their implements, is the instrument. The top can adjust their movements, what implements they use, the intensity of their use, the patterns they are used in to become more "in tune" with the bottom. Topy folks will learn how to negotiate safely and thoroughly, to clearly read the communication signals during a scene, and calibrate their actions resulting in longer and more satisfying scenes. Bottomy folks will learn what to look for when negotiating with a potential top as well as ways to communicate how they're feeling during a scene in order to assist the top in calibration.

In this facilitated Roundtable discussion, she will use this experience to debunk some of the myths that can be shaming to kinksters with trauma histories. Participants will also have an opportunity to bring up questions or thoughts about this difficult topic in a contained, non-judgemental space.

Negotiating Intense SM Play

Boomer, Lisa

Communication - Barrington - Sat 1:00 PM

However, like many 'soft' skills in BDSM, it can be a difficult and confusing skill to master. Being able to share your needs and desires in order to let your potential partner understand what you want to do or have done to you can seem daunting. However, approached like any other skill in BDSM activities, negotiations can be broken down to simpler, more understandable concepts that allow a clearer view of what you need to do. While geared toward negotiating a scene for intense SM play, the topics covered in the presentation are applicable to any level of BDSM activities and would be equally helpful to new or experienced people.

Many of us get a great deal of satisfaction using the shorter, lighter cousins of the long whips but have little or no opportunity to learn about and experience the power of the long whips. Boomer has a passion for the power and grace of the long whips in SM play. Presentation to include demonstration using long whips with practical discussion and strategies for using long whips in play.

Bill

Rope - Bristol - Sat 9:00 AM

Rope tops love tying but sometimes rope bottoms need to get out of rope quickly. As a good rope top, you try to get them undone as quickly as possible as you're trying to sift through a sea of knots and wraps. A lot of basic ties take as long to remove they do to put on. We will learn how make basic ties that come off instantly. The ties we will learn are single column ties, two column ties and a basic chest harness. If time allows, we will also cover the Diamond Front Full Body Lightning Harness which is a very decorative quick release harness that I invented some years ago. Please bring rope to class and someone to tie. One thirty foot and one fifteen foot piece will be enough for class. If you do not have rope, some will be available.

Response to Community Abuse: Promoting Change from the Top Down (& Bottom Up)

Samantha

Communication - Kingston - Sat 6:15 PM

When NCSF published the results from its consent violation survey, it was revealed that roughly 36% of the survey respondents reported experiencing non-consensual touch at a kink related meeting, club, munch, party or event. How can community leaders both provide support to those who have experienced harm, hold those who commit abusive acts accountable, and maintain community integrity? Community leaders and members are invited to explore existing research on effective abuse response policies and start a dialogue about putting these concepts into practice.

Single Tail 101 - Single Tail Basics Boomer

Whip - Bristol - Fri 6:00 PM

Starting out with a single tail can be an intimidating prospect. A good single tail is relatively expensive, takes knowledge to select, requires some time and effort to master and is commonly thought to be a very intense toy. All of these aspects can make the first experiences with a single tail seem daunting. This presentation will take participants through all the major milestones associated with learning single tails. Topics will include: whip selection and maintenance; safety issues associated with single tails; simple and basic throwing techniques; as well as practice and play strategies.

We will learn practice methods, throwing techniques, scene strategies and safety. People will be able to use their whip, learn new techniques or hone some existing skills. It is a class for everyone with a whip and a desire to learn to use it (or use it better) in play. Please note, you will have to supply your own whip for this class.

Submitting with Strength: Drop your Panties (for that spanking) Not your Personality GRLee

Power and Authority Exchange - Kingston - Sun 10:00 AM

You need to submit, and you are a strong, independent person with the need to express your thoughts and ideas freely and sometimes with volume. Can you be submissive with a dominant personality? What does that mean? How do these two halves co-exist without implosion? How do you make it work in your relationship with your Dominant? This discussion is open to all levels of the power exchange.

SUBvert the DOMinant Paradigm: Alternative Models for D/S Relationships

Laura Antoniou

Power and Authority Exchange - Rhode Island - Fri 7:45 PM

Mistresses, masters and slaves, daddies and offspring, subs and doms; in a world that celebrates the erotic imagination, it's funny how limited our relationship models tend to be. Feel like you don't fit into someone else's definition? Wondering if there's a style that suits your desires and needs? Then explore relationship types from other sub-cultures, history, and even pure fantasy. Free yourself from the constraints and labels we already know so you can better describe who you are, what you want and where you want to take your kink. Participants will be encouraged to describe how they see themselves and their relationships and add to what will be an ongoing exploration of identity and self awareness.

Learn to recognize when your inner voice is setting you up for failure. How to be the best you can be with the resources you have at hand today. How being honest with yourself and your dominant/master about your limits, resources and abilities can be more rewarding than trying to survive being the "super-sub".

Too Kinky for Words: Playing Way Off the Edge

Laura Antoniou

General Skills - Bristol - Sat 2:45 PM

Everyone loves to claim they play on the edge, or their style of being kinky is somehow greater than the average pervert. Yet even among the uber-kinky, there are those of us who have fantasies- or play styles- which seem to be beyond what is considered "acceptable." Is your kink really "OK"? How can you tell? Are there boundaries to fantasies? Should there be? Should we/can we own our most unmentionable ones? How do you share fantasies with a partner if they make you uncomfortable? This is a "closed door" workshop- once it begins, we will close the door on the outside world, both vanilla and kinky, and let loose. Participants must come prepared to write down a fantasy or play style (anonymous is ok) and turn it in to the presenter. If you think this might "trigger" you, don't come.

Using Pop-Culture Archetypes for Erotic Roleplay

Wintersong

Role Play - Greenwich - Sun 10:00 AM

Erotic role-play can be sexy, fun, exciting, and even scary. After all, using erotic role-play you can be anyone and do nearly anything, it is a play modality that opens up a world of possibilities. But for exactly that reason, exploring erotic role-play can be completely overwhelming! How should your "character" act? What does the "scene" look like? And how do you know if you and your partner(s) are on the same page? In this workshop we will look at an array of pop-culture archetypes from James Bond to Star Trek, Glee to Downton Abbey, and everywhere in between, with a focus on how we can use these archetypes as "shortcuts" to create shared context and help us get from the planning to the playing faster and more enjoyably.

What Do You Want From Me? Fantasy vs Reality

Cecilia Tan

Communication - Barrington - Sat 9:45 PM

In the world of BDSM and D/s we actively use our fantasies as part of our sex lives and our relationships. We share those fantasies with each other. We bond over them. Many BDSM relationships are based on the shared fantasy that we turn into our consensual reality. But this makes for the most complex set of relationship issues, ever, doesn't it? Cecilia Tan polled folks about their kinky relationships and how their fantasy lives and real-world lives matched up, or didn't. Come find out the results of the poll and discuss what is it that bottoms look for in a top? What do masters look for in a slave? Are we really looking to match the expectations set by romance novels, porn, or our wildest fantasies?

Who Cares What Everyone Says?

GRLee

Communication - Wickford - Sat 2:45 PM

There's a great big ocean of fetishes out there; how can you dip your toe in, have some fun, and not get hurt? Let's talk about wants vs. needs and what each of them means to you as you make your way slowly into the community. Let's talk about defining our own boundaries and doing things our way. This class is meant to be an open discussion and idea sharing format.

Why Does That Turn You On? Shy People Talking About Feelings

Bil

Communication - Greenwich - Sat 2:45 PM

Many people (such as the facilitator) have confusing and complex feelings about arousal and excitement. This interaction or that situation drives us totally crazy, but it's extremely difficult to communicate that when we are not sufficiently aggressive or experienced or have a wide network of peers to help us. This workshop will provide space to talk about what kinds of things excite us and why. Bring your feelings, bring your fantasies, costumes encouraged. Specifically for shy and inexperienced folk - long-time kinksters who have experience, confidence and knowledge will much happier in other sessions. Please come wearing a mask.
